4) PRIVACY POLICY

We are pleased that you have visited our website and we value your interest in our company and its products. We are committed to safeguarding your privacy online and wish you to feel fully secure while visiting this website. We take the protection of your privacy seriously and the collection of your personal data is an important concern in our business protocol. The personal information collected while you visit this website is recorded in accordance with the law relative to data protection in the country in which such information is treated. The websites of our group may contain links to other Internet providers. Please be aware Cellier des Dauphins declines any liability for the privacy policy and content of other websites.

We respect your privacy and your personal information.

Collection and use of personal data

When you visit the Les Dauphins Website, our servers automatically log the name of your Internet Service Provider, the web page from which you access our site, the different pages that you visit on our site, the date and the time you spend on the site. Furthermore, personal data is not registered unless you willingly communicate this information to us. This may happen when you register information on the Website or, for example reply to an opinion poll, take part in a game in which prizes are offered or in a competition, make an application or carry out a contract.

Use and transmission of personal data, functional link

We use your personal data for the technical administration of the pages on this Website, for our client database, for possible opinion polls relating to products and for marketing. We do this only when such data is a necessary part of the procedure. The collection and disclosure of personal data in response to requests from legal or State administrative bodies is done exclusively within the prescription of obligatory, national law. Our affiliates, agents and concessionaires are bound by professional secrecy and are obliged to respect our code of ethics.

Your choice

We wish to use your personal data in order to inform you about our products and services and, when necessary, to ask your opinion about them. Your participation in such actions is, of course, voluntary. Should you not agree with this, please inform us by writing to our address so that we can prevent and stop the use of your personal data according to your wishes.

Right to data access

On request, and in accordance with the law in force, we will inform you in writing (immediately whenever possible) whether personal information about you is registered on our servers and, if so, what it is. If you wish to obtain this information, we ask that you make this request in writing - immediately if possible. If, despite our best efforts to ensure the accuracy of such information, there is erroneous data, we will update or correct that information upon your request. You can find more, detailed information on this subject on the corresponding local website.

Security

Cellier des Dauphins uses technical and organisational security measures to ensure the protection of our databanks against deliberate or fortuitous manipulation. We also protect the data against loss or destruction and against access by unauthorised persons. Our security measures are constantly improved as newer technology becomes available. If you have any questions about the use or storage of your personal data, please contact our Privacy Protection Manager who will reply to any request for information, suggestion or claim (t.guigue@cellier-des-dauphins.com).

It is prohibited to use this Website or the Communication Services to send chain letters, "junk mail", "spam" or any other message involving mass distribution, repetition or unsolicited messages (whether commercial or other). It is also prohibited to collect, in any form whatsoever, information concerning third parties, notably their e-mail addresses, without the consent of those third parties. The following acts are also prohibited:

The creation and use of false identities,

The falsification of an e-mail address or headed letter,

To attempt to mislead a third party, in any way whatsoever, regarding the identity of the sender of a message or its origin,
The transmission of any element containing viruses, worms, Trojan horses or other similar elements that may damage or interfere with the operation of the Website or that may be damaging to third parties; or any element that is unlawful,

To attempt to access unauthorised services or materials,

To attempt to access unauthorised accounts, IT systems or networks connected to or concerning this Website by the use of passwords or any other means,

To attempt to interfere with a third party's use and enjoyment of this Website and its different services by means of another entity.

The transmission of any unsuitable materials as defined hereafter: inappropriate language, comments or images considered as obscene, misleading, illicit, racist, defamatory or constituting harassment.

The infringement of the rights of third parties, restricting or preventing the access and use of other users to the forums and chat rooms accessible via this Website.

Site disclaimer and user liability

Use of this site, its services and all material obtained through it is at the sole responsibility of the user. We disclaim all warranties, including but not limited to implied warranties of sale worthiness and fitness for a particular purpose. In no event shall Cellier des Dauphins be liable for any reproach, legal action or recourse by third parties arising out of or in connection with material not created by Cellier des Dauphins.

Furthermore Cellier des Dauphins may not be held liable in any way, directly or indirectly, for whatever reason, with respect to the following:

- inadequate performance of the Website and/or of any software used or downloaded from it
- any loss of data or services due to failure to meet deadlines, untimely modification, suspension or interruption of the site services
- the accuracy, quality or nature of any information obtained from the Website
- any direct or indirect consequences of a virus transmitted by the site servers.

Nor can Cellier des Dauphins be held liable, in any way, for any direct or indirect damage, including loss of profit, customers, data, any loss of intangible assets, loss of earnings or any other loss or damage which may arise from the use of this Website, nor for the non-accessibility of the Website as a result of inappropriate use by the User. The User may also be held liable in the case of death or injury resulting from such use.
Personal information

We decline any liability regarding the personal contribution made by the Users, whether in a "chat room" forum or any other discussion platform. Such information, whether opinions, comments, statements, recommendations or points of view, express solely the User's opinions, comments, statements, recommendations or points of view and in no way those of Cellier des Dauphins.

This Website may contain links to other websites that are not managed or developed by Cellier des Dauphins. We have no control whatsoever over the information, products or services offered on other sites and IN NO CIRCUMSTANCE can we be held liable for the content of such sites. Thus, it is possible for Users to buy goods and services through this Website, some of the said goods and services being offered by third party retailers having a hypertext link on this Website. Users may also correspond with each other or take part in promotions run by third parties advertising on this Website. In no way does Cellier des Dauphins vouch for these third parties and cannot guarantee any transactions, operations, correspondence or participation in promotions offered by other parties. In particular, we decline any form of liability for payment or delivery of goods and services offered by other parties, and any conditions, provisions, arrangements, guaranties or responsibility connected with such transactions concern the User and the advertising party exclusively. We decline any form of liability concerning any transaction, operation, correspondence or participation of this kind.

You, the User, undertake to compensate Cellier des Dauphins and to guarantee the company against any action or claim for liability, costs, loss of profit, loss of earnings, loss of data or any other loss or damage, direct or indirect, resulting from your infringement of any of the present Terms and Conditions.

7) GOVERNING LAW

These Terms and Conditions shall be subject to and construed according to French law. Any dispute that is not settled by mutual agreement will be brought before a court of competent jurisdiction. To the extent that any part of these Terms and Conditions may be found to be invalid, unlawful or unenforceable, such part shall be construed to reflect the best intentions of the parties, and severed from the remaining terms all of which shall remain in full force and effect as permitted by law.

Should Cellier des Dauphins fail to apply, or not be required to apply, any part of these Terms and Conditions or any other right, this shall in no case be construed as an abandonment by Cellier des Dauphins of such part or right, unless we agree otherwise in writing.
